

Rocky Mountain Equi-Rhythm's Application for Scholarship

Fee Schedule:

Regular and Sliding Fee

Rocky Mountain Equi-Rhythm uses the "Sliding Fee Schedule" as a basis for establishing adjusted fee assessments in accord with household sizes and annual incomes. We based the family session, group session and individual session fees on the average price of hourly therapy sessions conducted in the Boulder, Colorado area. Our fees presume that we'll provide two-hour therapy sessions with two professionals conducting the sessions. We charge at-risk youth and adults a per-session fee based on family size/income and influenced by other factors such as the fee schedule of the organization that referred the client to Rocky Mountain Equi-Rhythm. We have limited scholarships available and determination of availability will be based on space and funding availability when awarding a scholarship.
